

In the talk we consider critical Markov branching process with infinite variance and non-homogeneous Poisson immigration. The asymptotic of the probability for non-extinction and limit theorems are proved in a particular case when the probability generating function of the process without immigration has an explicit representation and the distribution of immigrants has the Sibuya distribution.